

WJEC Wales Biology

A-level

SP Unit 4 2b - Dissection of Flowers

Flashcards

What is pollination?

What is pollination?

Pollination is where pollen grains are transferred from the anther to the stigma.

What are the two types of flowering plants?

What are the two types of flowering plants?

Monocotyledons and Dicotyledons.

Which structures should be identified in an insect pollinated flower?

Which structures should be identified in an insect pollinated flower?

Flower, sepals, petals.

Which structures should be identified in a wind-pollinated flower?

Which structures should be identified in a wind-pollinated flower?

Anthers, stigma, flowers.

State a hazard and safety precaution involved in this practical.

State a hazard and safety precaution involved in this practical.

Flowers may cause an allergic reaction.
Avoid using species of plants that can cause allergic reactions.

