MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 80

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2022 series for most Cambridge IGCSE™, Cambridge International A and AS Level components and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 21 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

English & Media subject specific general marking principles (To be read in conjunction with the Generic Marking Principles (and requiring further guidance on how to place marks within levels))

Components using level descriptors:
- We use level descriptors as a guide to broad understanding of the qualities normally expected of, or typical of, work in a level.
- Level descriptors are a means of general guidance, and should not be interpreted as hurdle statements.
- Where indicative content notes are supplied for a question, these are not a prescription of required content, and must not be treated as such. Alternative correct points and unexpected answers in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the knowledge and skills demonstrated.
- While we may have legitimate expectations as to the ground most answers may occupy, we must at all times be prepared to meet candidates on their chosen ground, provided it is relevant ground (e.g. clearly related to and derived from a relevant passage/text and meeting the mark scheme requirements for the question).

Components using point-based marking:
Point marking is often used to reward knowledge, understanding and application of skills. We give credit where the candidate's answer shows relevant knowledge, understanding and application of skills in answering the question. We do not give credit where the answer shows confusion.

From this it follows that we:
a   DO credit answers which are worded differently from the mark scheme if they clearly convey the same meaning (unless the mark scheme requires a specific term).
b   DO credit alternative answers/examples which are not written in the mark scheme if they are correct.
c   DO credit answers where candidates give more than one correct answer in one prompt/numbered/scaffolded space where extended writing is required rather than list-type answers. For example, questions that require n reasons (e.g. State two reasons…).
d   DO NOT credit answers simply for using a 'key term' unless that is all that is required. (Check for evidence it is understood and not used wrongly.).
e   DO NOT credit answers which are obviously self-contradicting or trying to cover all possibilities.
f   DO NOT give further credit for what is effectively repetition of a correct point already credited unless the language itself is being tested. This applies equally to 'mirror statements' (i.e. polluted/not polluted).
g   DO NOT require spellings to be correct, unless this is part of the test. However, spellings of syllabus terms must allow for clear and unambiguous separation from other syllabus terms with which they may be confused (e.g. Corrasion/Corrosion).

Note: All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated. Nonetheless, the content must be clearly related to and derived from the texts.

Question	Answer	Marks
2(d)	Re-read paragraphs 9 and 12. • Paragraph 9 begins 'I think back … ' and is about Veda's memories of what her grandmother said about the early evidence of her dancing ability. • Paragraph 12 begins 'I leap and land … ' and is about Veda practising for her dance competition while her teacher taps the beat. Explain how the writer uses language to convey meaning and to create effect in these paragraphs. Choose three examples of words or phrases from each paragraph to support your answer. Your choices should include the use of imagery. Write about 200 to 300 words. Up to 15 marks are available for the content of your answer. Use the Marking Criteria for Question 2(d) (Table A, Reading) Notes on task This question is marked for the ability to select powerful or unusual words and for an understanding of ways in which the language is effective. Expect responses to provide words / phrases that carry connotations additional to general meaning.	15
	Mark holistically for the overall quality of the response, not for the number of words chosen, bearing in mind that for the higher bands there should be a range of choices to demonstrate an understanding of how language works, and that this should include the ability to explain images. It is the quality of the analysis that attracts marks. Do not deduct marks for inaccurate statements; simply ignore them. The following notes are a guide to what good responses might say about the selections. Candidates can make any sensible comment, but only credit those that are relevant to the correct meanings of the words in the context and that have some validity. Alternative acceptable explanations should be credited. Credit comments on effects created by non-vocabulary choices such as grammar / syntax and punctuation devices. These must be additional to comments on vocabulary.

Question	Answer	Marks
2(d)	Responses might use the following: Paragraph 9 begins 'I think back … ' and is about Veda's memories of what her grandmother said about the early evidence of her dancing ability. Overview: even as a baby, Veda instinctively expresses herself through her body rather than through language. Steps came to you early. Speech came late: noticeable comparison and contrast for grandmother; suggests area of talent in movement; sounds like Grandma is using a saying, words of wisdom, destined to be a dancer heave myself: haul herself up, determination and motivation, strength restricting (bars): depriving her of her freedom; frustration at being held captive (my) prison-like cot: baby's bed should be a place of protection and innocence, but hers makes her feel enclosed and unable to break out; desire for freedom (my limbs) urgently craving (release): intensely desiring, needing; has been locked up, desperate shape thoughts with my fingers: construct, form; crafting, something beautiful shape themselves effortlessly (into the hand symbols): ease of expression through movement, without having to think about it; repetition of shape to reinforce talent for dance; externalising of internal thought process (words) stumbled (in my throat): tripped; could not form themselves properly; clumsy losing their way (before reaching my lips): speech still undeveloped; unable to find the right way forward. (my hands spoke my first sentences) like lotus buds blossoming: early expression through hands; bloomed like beautiful flowers; natural vehicle for her to communicate	15

Question	Answer	Marks
2(d)	Paragraph 12 begins 'I leap and land … ' and is about Veda practising for her dance competition while her teacher taps the beat. Overview: Veda is at her most happy and confident. Her whole body is engaged with the dance as she pursues and conquers the music; contrast with the mood of paragraph 9. I leap and land on my sure feet: impressive jumps, controlled, prowess, confident of skill; graceful excitement mounting: tension increasing, enjoying and anticipating increase in speed, rising with the music, emotions synchronised with the beat challenging me (to repeat my routine faster): testing her, stretching her, pulling her on; enjoying the competition heels strike the ground: beat, hit, pound sharply; confidence and certainty in her movements, power, force fast as fire-sparks: extremely quick, explosive movements, energy and power; seeming to go off in different directions. uncontrollable and potential for danger, ignite where they land streams of sweat trickle: perspiring heavily; energetic, natural process, fluid movement of water released (braided hair) flies free: travels through the air; feels liberated whips sharply (around my waist): slaps against her; vigorous action chasing down soaring music: the uplifting music carries her away; trying to own the music, take hold of it; primal, animal instinct of pursuing prey, bird(s) of prey fills me with elation: as if a vessel, extreme happiness catching and pinning rhythms (to the ground with my feet): dancing in perfect harmony with the music; precise; playing with it (cat-like); conquering the challenge of the dance proud as a hunter (rejoicing in his skill) (image): idea of rhythms and music as prey that has been captured; supremely confident and victorious; she knows she has danced extremely well Only credit comments on stylistic effect where these are explicitly linked to choices.	15

Marking Criteria for Question 2(d)

Table A, Reading: Analysing how writers achieve effects

Use the following table to give a mark out of 15 for Reading.

Level	Marks	Description
5	13–15	• Wide-ranging discussion of judiciously selected language with some high quality comments that add meaning and associations to words/phrases in both parts of the text, and demonstrate the writer's reasons for using them. • Tackles imagery with some precision and imagination. • There is clear evidence that the candidate understands how language works.
4	10–12	• Explanations are given of carefully selected words and phrases. • Explanations of meanings within the context of the text are secure and effects are identified in both parts of the text. • Images are recognised as such and the response goes some way to explaining them. • There is some evidence that the candidate understands how language works.
3	7–9	• A satisfactory attempt is made to select appropriate words and phrases. • The response mostly gives meanings of words and any attempt to suggest and explain effects is basic or very general. • One half of the text may be better addressed than the other.
2	4–6	• The response provides a mixture of appropriate choices and words that communicate less well. • The response may correctly identify linguistic devices but not explain why they are used. • Explanations may be few, general, slight or only partially effective. • They may repeat the language of the original or do not refer to specific words.
1	1–3	• The choice of words is sparse or rarely relevant. • Any comments are inappropriate and the response is very thin.
0	0	• The response does not relate to the question. • Inappropriate words and phrases are chosen or none are selected.

Note: All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated. Nonetheless, the content must be clearly related to and derived from the texts.

Question 3

This question tests reading assessment objectives R1, R2 and R3 (15 marks):

R1 demonstrate understanding of explicit meanings
R2 demonstrate understanding of implicit meanings and attitudes
R3 analyse evaluate and develop facts, ideas and opinions, using appropriate support from the text and writing assessment objectives W1, W2, W3, W4 and W5 (10 marks):

W1 articulate experience and express what is thought, felt and imagined
W2 organise and structure ideas and opinions for deliberate effect
W3 use a range of vocabulary and sentence structures appropriate to context
W4 use register appropriate to context
W5 make accurate use of spelling, punctuation and grammar.
