Paper 2 Directed Writing and Composition

October/November 2021MARK SCHEMEMaximum Mark: 80

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2021 series for most Cambridge IGCSE™, Cambridge International A and AS Level components and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 11 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however, the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

Note: All Examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated. Nonetheless, the content must be clearly related to and derived from the passage.

Question	Answer	Marks
1	Imagine that your school is proposing a programme of visits to different museums for all students in your year group. Your headteacher has asked for your opinion. Write a letter to your Headteacher. In your letter you should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • evaluate the views about museums in both texts • give your own views, based on what you have read, about whether or not a programme of visits would be a good idea. Base your letter on what you have read in both texts, but be careful to use your own words. Address both of the bullet points. Write about 250 to 350 words. Up to 15 marks are available for the content of your answer, and up to 25 marks for the quality of your writing. Notes on task: Responses might use the following explicit ideas: Text A <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • tourists visit museums • museums are boring / uninteresting / crowded • long queueing times to get in • range of different museums – some more interesting than others • visitors and staff lack knowledge • many exhibits are fake / not on show • crowds at famous museums / paintings • technology / internet now a feature • some museums sell overpriced souvenirs Text B <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • conscious attempt by some museums to rebrand / modernise • trying to attract wider customer base • some introduce novel / unusual exhibits • higher / new fees but fewer staff / curators • health benefits of visiting museum • wedding venue • museum websites offer virtual tours 	40

Question	Answer	Marks
1	Possible evaluation of implicit ideas, focused on the value of school visits to museums: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • school visits to actual historic sites are better to learn a country's history • behaviour conventions in museums are unrealistic for young people • students can't afford to waste time out of class • museum visits could help ease stress for students under pressure with exams • museum visits could be enough to spark students' interest in history/encourage them to find out more • young people need novel / new / engaging exhibits / need to look to the future, not the past • museums' new branding is not targeted at young people • the proportion of fake exhibits does not invalidate the museum experience altogether • commercialism of modern museums is cynical / profit over history / exploitative of young people
