Fig. 4b – Contemporary Painting of Dunwich by David Downes

Fig. 4c – Extracts from the Suffolk Tourist Guide, 2016

It's hard to believe that the small, sleepy village of Dunwich on the Suffolk coast was once a bustling city with a population of 4,000. However, at one time it was the unofficial capital of East Anglia and a bustling seaport with 8 churches, 5 houses of religious order, and was the port responsible for major trades including the export of wool and grain and the import of fish, fir and timber. Today Dunwich is a small village with a large shingle beach, a Heath & Forest stretching to Westleton in one direction and Walberswick in the other, with RSPB Minsmere alongside. So there's still plenty to see and do!

Settled between Walberswick and Southwold, this is a perfect location to launch a birdwatching expedition, as it is nearby to the birdwatching areas of Dunwich Heath and RSPB Minsmere.

The Dunwich Museum charts the story of the City-Town-Village through the centuries, taking the visitor through the Roman, Saxon, Medieval periods right up to date. There's a DVD and also a natural history collection detailing some of the ecology in this AONB.

From Spring to the end of November the beach cafe at Dunwich is open, offering a full range of refreshments, including fish & chips of course! There is also a large car park and public toilets open all year, so come to Dunwich for an invigorating stroll or even a dip!

After all that exercise you'll need somewhere to recuperate and what better place than The Ship, Dunwich, which also provides accommodation for those too tired to leave.
