MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 60

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2021 series for most Cambridge IGCSE™, Cambridge International A and AS Level components and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 91 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

Applying the Mark Scheme

- When marking a response the overall criterion to be considered should be – ‘How good is this response to this question?’
- The Level Descriptor should be used to decide the level into which the quality of the answer fits.
- Exhaustive lists of possible facts are not given in the mark scheme, as there is often a choice of factual knowledge that candidates may use.
- WHERE EXAMPLES OF RESPONSES ARE GIVEN, THESE ARE NOT PRESCRIPTIVE, BUT ARE INTENDED AS A GUIDE. It is not possible to cover every possible type of response within a levels of response mark scheme and examiners are expected to use their professional judgement at all times in ensuring that responses are placed in the correct level and given an appropriate mark within that level.
- Marking must be positive. Marks must not be deducted for inaccurate or irrelevant parts of answers. In itself, poor use of historical terminology, spelling, grammar or handwriting does not affect the mark. The overall quality of the answer to the question should be judged.
- If a candidate reaches a particular level, s/he must be rewarded with a mark within that level. It is not necessary to work through the levels.
- The full range of marks should be used. Do not be afraid to award full marks or no marks. Failure to do this will seriously affect the distribution of marks. Be prepared to reward candidates who show any level of understanding. The mark scheme starts from basic acceptable response. Where a band of marks is indicated for a level, these marks should be used with reference to the development of the answer within that level.

Question	Answer	Marks
1(b)	Why were Charles Albert's actions in 1848–49 important for Italy?	6
	Level 4 – Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 – Explains ONE reason		4–5
	(Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. 'In 1848 Charles Albert declared war on Austria and led his army to fight against Austrian rule. Although he was eventually defeated in the Battle of Novara, his actions were important because they were the first attempt by the House of Savoy to get rid of Austrian rule. His efforts were continued by his son Victor Emmanuel II who became the first king of a united Italy in 1861. So, Charles Albert is important because he started the process of freeing Italy from Austrian rule.'
	Level 2 – Identifies AND/OR describes reasons		2–3
(One mark for each identification/description) e.g. 'He supported the idea of a united Italy free from Habsburg control.' 'He announced a constitution for Piedmont.' 'He led his army against the Austrian Army in the First Italian War of Independence.' 'He was defeated by the Austrians in the Battle of Novara and abdicated in favour of his son, Victor Emmanuel II.' 'He placed Piedmont in a position to lead the uniting of Italy in the future.'

1(c)	'Liberalism was more important than nationalism in causing the 1848 Revolutions.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer.	10
	Level 5 – Explains with evaluation of 'how far' As Level 4 plus evaluation.	10
	Level 4 – Explanation of both sides A L4 answer will have a minimum of three explanations (2 on one side; 1 on the other). This will be worth a mark of 7. Fuller explanation of one issue to be given two marks. An answer which only has one explanation on one side of the argument cannot be awarded more than 8.	7–9
	Level 3 One sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. 'The growth of liberalism was significant in causing many of the revolutions. Many people wanted the freedom to vote, worship and own land. They wanted freedom of speech to express their views and freedom of the press. People wanted a say in how their country was governed. This can be seen in Prussia where a new constitution was demanded and in Rome where press censorship was abolished and land was taken away from the Church. Also, in France demands for liberal reforms to the constitution, such as extension of the franchise were very important as causes of the revolution there.' OR e.g. 'Nationalism played a significant part in some of the revolutions, especially those that did not have a nation state of their own. In Hungary and parts of Italy, the national groups were seeking independence from the Austrian empire, while in Germany and Italy nationalists wished to unite with other states to form a larger nation.'	5 to 6 4–6

Question	Answer	Marks
1(c)	Level 2 – Identifies AND/OR describes (One mark for each point.) e.g. ‘Nationalism was an important factor in Germany and Italy.’ ‘Liberal reforms were demanded by revolutionaries in France and Germany.’ ‘There was a demand for a greater say in how the country was governed.’ ‘There was unrest with the existing methods of government.’ ‘Royal absolutism seemed to be out of date and liberalism was popular.’ ‘There was demand for independence from an occupying power.’ ‘A desire for national unity was important in Germany and Italy but not France.’ ‘In places like Hungary they wanted independence from Austrian rule but in France they wanted constitutional reforms.’ ‘In some places like France they wanted to get rid of the monarchy and replace it with a liberal constitution.’	2–3
	Level 1 – General answer lacking specific contextual knowledge e.g. ‘I think nationalism was more important because it was the reason why many supported the revolutions.’	1

2(b)	Why was the war with France important to Bismarck's plans?	6
	Level 4 – Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 – Explains ONE reason		4–5
	(Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation)
	e.g. 'This war was very important to Bismarck's plans for uniting Germany. After the war with Austria there were still southern German states outside the North German Confederation that was dominated by Prussia. Bismarck tricked France into war because he knew that a war with France would whip up German nationalism and encourage southern states like Bavaria to join Prussia. This would bring about German unification. As soon as France mobilised the southern German states joined on Prussia's side.'
Level 2 – Identifies AND/OR describes reasons	2–3
(One mark for each identification/description)
e.g. 'It led to southern German states joining Prussia.' 'It helped create a unified Germany.' 'It was a great victory for Bismarck and made him very powerful in Germany.' 'It led to Germany becoming a major European power.' 'It made possible the creation of the German Empire in 1871.' 'It ensured Prussian dominance.'
Level 1 – General answer lacking specific contextual knowledge	1
e.g. 'It was important because it meant that Bismarck would be able to move forward and carry out his plans.'

2(c)	'The Frankfurt Parliament of 1848–49 never had a chance of succeeding.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer.	10
	Level 5 – Explains with evaluation of 'how far' As Level 4 plus evaluation.	10
	Level 4 – Explanation of both sides A L4 answer will have a minimum of three explanations (2 on one side; 1 on the other). This will be worth a mark of 7. Fuller explanation of one issue to be given two marks. An answer which only has one explanation on one side of the argument cannot be awarded more than 8.	7–9
	Level 3 – One-sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides marks More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. 'I think this view is wrong. The Parliament did achieve things and could have succeeded. It was elected by voters all over Germany and produced a new constitution for a German Empire with an elected Parliament. It represented the strong liberal opinions that existed at the time and the desire for a united Germany. The fact that it did fail does not mean that it could not have succeeded. If it had been more moderate and got the support of the princes and rulers of German states like Prussia, it might have succeeded.' OR 'I agree with this. The Parliament had no real power. The power lay in individual German states like Prussia. For example, when the Parliament tried to take over control of a war with Denmark, Prussia ignored it and ended the war. When the Parliament offered Frederick William the crown of a German Empire, he simply rejected it. As soon as he did this the Parliament was finished. It was made up of liberals endlessly talking rather than a body that was supported by the German states'	5–6 4–6

Question	Answer	Marks
2(c)	Level 2 – Identifies AND/OR describes 2–3 (One mark for each point.) e.g. ‘It needed, and never had, the support of the German states and their leaders.’ ‘Frederick William of Prussia rejected its offer of the crown of a united Germany.’ ‘There were too many different opinions in the Parliament for it to succeed.’ ‘It was divided between moderate and the extreme left.’ ‘It represented the strong liberal and national ideas at the time.’ ‘It was elected from all over Germany.’ ‘It managed to create a constitution for a united Germany.’
	Level 1 – General answer lacking specific contextual knowledge 1 e.g. ‘The Frankfurt Parliament never had a chance of succeeding because it was weak and not enough people supported it.’

Question	Answer	Marks
3(b)	Why did Britain deal harshly with the Indian Mutiny?	6
	Level 4 – Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 – Explains ONE reason		4–5
	(Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. ‘One of the reasons it was dealt with harshly was the mood in Britain. Many people in Britain were shocked by the accounts (often exaggerated) of the atrocities by the rebels in the newspapers. This created a mood for harsh revenge and seemed to justify the harsh punishment handed out by the British.’
	Level 2 – Identifies AND/OR describes reasons		2–3
(One mark for each identification/description) e.g. ‘The mood in Britain demanded harsh punishment.’ ‘Some of the rebels were members of the army and so had disobeyed their officers. This was seen as disloyalty and regarded with horror by the army.’ ‘The rebels did commit atrocities and this angered the British to commit atrocities in return.’ ‘The reason was racism. The British were horrified by people they regarded as inferior rising up against them.’ ‘The British valued their empire in India and had to make sure nothing like this happened again.’ ‘It was to show British supremacy.’
Level 1 – General answer lacking specific contextual knowledge		1
e.g. ‘It had to deal with it harshly to teach everyone a lesson.’
Level 0 – No evidence submitted or response does not address the question		0

3(c)	Was European imperialism driven mainly by economic or by strategic motives? Explain your answer. Level 5 – Explains with evaluation of ‘was European imperialism driven mainly by economic or by strategic motives’ 10 As Level 4 plus evaluation. Level 4 – Explanation of both sides 7–9 A L4 answer will have a minimum of three explanations (2 on one side; 1 on the other). This will be worth a mark of 7. Fuller explanation of one issue to be given two marks. An answer which only has one explanation on one side of the argument cannot be awarded more than 8. Level 3 – One-sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5–6 marks 4–6 More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. ‘I think strategic motives were more important. All countries were concerned about their own, and their colonies, security. Control of the seas was very important to Britain and some areas were colonised because they were vital fuelling stations for naval ships. Also, the more land a country could acquire, the greater its power and reputation became. This explains the competition between Russia and Britain in Central and South Asia. The British fought to keep Russia out of areas such as Afghanistan, Iran and India. The Scramble for Africa can also be understood through strategic motives. For example, France was interested in Tunisia because of its commanding position in the Mediterranean, and Britain was interested in Egypt because of the Suez Canal route to India.’ OR e.g. ‘I think that economic motives were important. To develop their industries and wealth, European countries needed to develop their trade markets abroad. Areas like Africa and Asia provided markets for European goods and cheap raw materials for European factories. Empires also provided European countries with outlets for the investment of their surplus money by seeking new markets and foreign investments.’	10

Question	Answer	Marks
3(c)	Level 2 – Identifies AND/OR describes 2–3 (One mark for each point.) e.g. ‘To create fresh markets for European products.’ ‘Leopold was interested in the Congo because this would open up opportunities to penetrate central Africa.’ ‘By exploiting the natural resources of colonies, European countries made their own economies more prosperous.’ ‘Britain was interested in South Africa because of its diamonds.’ ‘When Leopold took over the Congo he made a fortune from rubber plantations.’ ‘Imperialism was designed to keep European countries strong and secure.’ ‘Britain was interested in Egypt because it wanted to keep the Suez Canal safe.’ ‘Germany wanted colonies because it believed it could not be a great power without them.’

4(b)	Why was the Austrian ultimatum to Serbia in July 1914 important?	6
	Level 4 – Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 – Explains ONE reason		4–5
	(Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. ‘It was important because it was designed to cause war with Serbia which Austria and Germany would quickly win. It was impossible for Serbia to agree to the terms in the ultimatum without losing face completely. Nevertheless, Serbia accepted all the terms except one, but this made no difference because Austria declared war on Serbia. So it was important because it led to the start of the war.’
	Level 2 – Identifies AND/OR describes reasons		2–3
(One mark for each identification/description) e.g. ‘It led to war.’ ‘It was important because there was no way in which Serbia could agree to its terms and so it made the situation worse.’ ‘It was important because its unreasonable demands showed that Austria wanted war.’ ‘It was important because it led to Austria declaring war on Serbia.’ ‘It was important because it started the chain of events that led to the First World War.’ ‘It was important because it showed that Austria had the backing of Germany.’

4(c)	'The Alliance System was more important than the arms race in bringing about the First World War.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer.	10

	Level 3 – One-sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. 'I think the Alliance System was more important. The main powers of Europe were divided into two alliances – the Triple Alliance and the Triple Entente. This meant that if one country on one side was in dispute with one country on the other side, they could drag the other members of their alliance into war. This is what happened in 1914. When Austria declared war on Serbia, Germany joined Austria. Because of Austria's actions, Russia began to mobilise and this led Germany to declare war on Russia. This brought France into the war and Germany's declaration of war on France, which then led to Britain declaring war on Germany. Soon the war was one alliance against the other.' OR e.g. 'The arms race was more important. This was because so many countries having such enormous amounts of arms meant that any dispute could easily end up in a major war. The arms race also increased competition and tensions between the countries so that disputes were more likely. This can be seen in the naval race where Britain and Germany competed to have the most powerful navy through the building of Dreadnoughts. This led to each country accusing the other of wanting world domination and perhaps planning an invasion. It also meant that if Germany was involved in war, Britain would be dragged in because of its naval rivalry with Germany.'	5–6 4–6

4(c)	Level 2 – Identifies AND/OR describes 2–3 (One mark for each point.) e.g. ‘The Alliance System meant that if one country in an alliance was at war, it could drag in the other members of the alliance.’ ‘Germany supported its ally Austria over Serbia and this then meant that Russia got involved.’ ‘Once Russia was involved in the war, then France was bound to be involved.’ ‘The arms race increased tensions between different countries.’ ‘The existence of so many arms meant a small dispute could easily escalate.’ ‘The arms race between Britain and Germany increased the rivalry between them.’ ‘The arms race glorified militaristic culture in several countries.’
	Level 1 – General answer lacking specific contextual knowledge 1 e.g. ‘The arms race was more important because it involved guns and weapons which are to do with war.’

5(b)	Why did the League of Nations have some success in dealing with international disputes in the 1920s?	6
	Level 4 – Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 – Explains ONE reason		4–5
	(Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation)
	e.g. ‘It had some successes because the disputes it had to sort out were all minor ones that did not involve the major powers. For example, the dispute over the Aaland Islands was between Sweden and Finland, while the Greek invasion of Bulgaria was sorted out because no major powers were involved. Minor powers were more likely to accept the rulings of the League because they did not have the power or powerful allies to stand up to the League which was largely run by major powers like Britain and France.’
	Level 2 – Identifies AND/OR describes reasons		2–3
(One mark for each identification/description)
e.g. ‘It was successful in the 1920s because countries accepted its decisions.’ ‘All the disputes it had to deal with were between minor powers.’ ‘During this period the major powers were peaceful.’ ‘After the First World War, there was a general wish to make the League work.’

5(c)	'Britain and France were justified in not supporting strong action by the League against Italy over its actions in Abyssinia.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer.	10
	Level 5 – Explains with evaluation of 'how far' As Level 4 plus evaluation.	10
	Level 4 – Explanation of both sides A L4 answer will have a minimum of three explanations (2 on one side; 1 on the other). This will be worth a mark of 7. Fuller explanation of one issue to be given two marks. An answer which only has one explanation on one side of the argument cannot be awarded more than 8.	7–9
	Level 3 – One-sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides marks More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. 'I think Britain and France were justified because of the bigger picture. Britain and France were mainly worried about Germany and its rearmament. They hoped that Italy would become their ally against Germany. Italy had recently joined Britain and France in the Stresa Front where they all agreed to work against Germany. For these reasons they did not want to upset Italy too much because it might then ally with Germany.' OR e.g. 'I do not think they were justified. Italy invaded Abyssinia without justification. Mussolini wanted to build an Italian empire but his invasion was exactly the kind of aggression the League was set up to deal with. Britain and France were the two leading members of the League and they should have set an example. Instead, Britain refused to close the Suez Canal to Italian ships and only supported weak sanctions that did no real harm to Italy.'	5–6 4–6

5(c)	Level 2 – Identifies AND/OR describes 2–3 (One mark for each point.) e.g. ‘Italy invaded and then took over Abyssinia by force so Britain and France were not justified.’ ‘The Italian actions over Abyssinia were exactly the kind of thing the League was meant to deal with, so Britain and France were not justified.’ ‘I think they did do enough. They supported sanctions on Italy.’ ‘They were not justified, especially the underhand and secret Hoare-Laval Pact.’ ‘They were justified because the public in Britain and France did not want their country going to war.’ ‘They wanted Italy’s support against Germany.’

	(Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. ‘The remilitarisation of the Rhineland was important because it was demilitarised by the Treaty of Versailles. This had humiliated Germany and Hitler hated it. The Rhineland was part of Germany and had been occupied by Allied troops. In 1917 Germany introduced unrestricted submarine warfare against all ships heading for Britain. This included merchant ships from the USA that were carrying enormous and crucial amounts of supplies including food. In 1917 many merchant ships were sunk by German submarines and Britain was growing short of food. It had to introduce rationing. If this had carried on then Britain could have collapsed and been defeated but the use of the convoy system saved the merchant ships and kept Britain in the war.’ OR e.g. ‘The Battle of Jutland was more important because it gave Britain control of the seas. Although the battle itself was probably a draw, the German navy turned it into a British victory by withdrawing the German fleet back to port and keeping it there for the rest of the war. This gave Britain control of the North Sea which allowed it to mount a blockade of Germany. This led to Germany being short of armaments and food and this was an important factor in persuading Germany to end the war in 1918 when its population was starving and risings were breaking out across Germany.’	10 10 7–9 5–6 4–6

	Level 3 – One-sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. 'Stalin's policies had some success in terms of heavy industries but also some serious weaknesses. Some of the government figures about increased production were false and there was a lot of corruption. For ordinary industrial workers, wages fell and industries producing consumer goods were ignored. This led to shortages of things that people needed in their everyday lives like shoes and clothing. For many workers, Stalin's policies did a lot of harm.' OR e.g. 'I think his industrial policies did a lot of good, especially in terms of heavy industries. Stalin realised that these needed to be developed to turn Russia into a modern state and to strengthen it in case of war. Targets were set and these led to impressive increases in production in things like electricity, coal, chemicals and iron. Later in the period, more attention was focused on armaments and by the end of the 1930s, Russia was much stronger militarily. Overall, Stalin's policies made necessary changes and did a lot of good.'	5–6 4–6

15(b)	Why did the prices US farmers received for their produce drop during the 1920s?	6
	Level 4 – Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 – Explains ONE reason		4–5
	(Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation)
	e.g. ‘The underlying problem was overproduction. During the First World War, more and more land was farmed to produce foodstuffs for Europe. Mechanisation was introduced on farms and this increased production. This led to the situation where, after the war, US farmers were producing too much food which nobody wanted and this resulted in lower prices for their products.’

(One mark for each identification/description)
e.g. ‘Farmers were producing too much.’ ‘There was competition from Canada and Argentina which brought prices down.’ ‘Farmers mechanised and so produced more. There were lots of industries that boomed, especially new industries. There was a lot of building in America in the 1920s and so construction firms did well. They built new factories, offices and shops and skyscrapers like the Empire State Building. The demand for cars meant that companies like Ford boomed. The cost of buying a car went down because of mass production and so thousands were sold. This also helped other industries that supplied the car industry, like the steel industry.’ OR e.g. ‘I disagree with this statement because there were important parts of American industry that did not boom, especially older industries. Many clothes were made from new synthetic materials, old industries like cotton and wool suffered badly. The workers were badly paid and many lost their jobs. Its aim was to reduce production. The government did this by buying animals from the farmers and then slaughtering them. For example, millions of piglets were killed. It also paid farmers not to plant crops on parts of their land. Land that already had crops planted in it was ploughed up. The Five-Year Plan transformed China with rapid growth in the size of cities and the development of infrastructure such as railways. There were massive increases in the production of steel, coal and oil. On the other hand, the introduction of communes led to a fall in production and this led to famine with millions starving to death.' OR e.g. 'In the Great Leap Forward, thousands of small factories proved to be inefficient. Much of the 'backyard' iron and steel was of low quality and could not be used. In 1960, after poor Sino-Soviet relations, Russia began to withdraw their technicians and advisers. This deprived the Chinese of much needed expertise and money. Mao's industrial policy was a failure. However, his agricultural reforms, introduced in 1950 were more successful with land being taken away from the landlords and redistributed to the peasants. This is because there were many laws that discriminated against black South Africans. They were not allowed to own land which meant all they could do was be labourers and many were forced to live in the reserves. Skilled jobs were reserved for white people and black townships were built well away from city centres. They were not allowed to vote and all black men had to carry a passbook and could be stopped by the police at any time. All of these measures show that black South Africans were being kept separate and being made second class citizens. This is apartheid.’ OR e.g. ‘I do not think it was an apartheid state. Although there were some laws that restricted black South Africans, it was not an overall system like the one set up in the 1950s. Before the war, there were a few laws that separated black people and white people but it was not an overall system covering all aspects of life and covering the whole country. This is what was attempted in the 1950s – a deliberate policy to separate every aspect of life in South Africa into black and white. This can be seen in the separate education systems and the fact that black South Africans had to use separate buses, trains, public toilets and parks.’	10 10 7–9 5–6 4–6

	Level 4 – Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 – Explains ONE reason		4–5
	(Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation)
	e.g. ‘This was because the country was getting close to civil war. The Inkatha Freedom Movement wanted a special deal for Natal and was using violence against ANC supporters and was being helped by the security forces. The ANC thought that de Klerk was refusing to get the security forces to protect ANC members and the talks with him stopped. By 1989, South Africa was facing a terrible economic situation. There were economic sanctions against South Africa and international banks were withdrawing from the country. Unemployment was growing fast. Unless something was done quickly there would be real trouble. De Klerk realised this and this is why he supported the ending of white minority rule.’ OR e.g. ‘I think it was very surprising. De Klerk was a member of the National Party and an Afrikaner. He had always believed in racial separation and his father had been one of the people who had set apartheid up in the first place. He had served under Botha as a minister and had helped enforce apartheid. So, it was very surprising that he should help to end white minority rule.’ Level 2 – Identifies AND/OR describes 2–3 (One mark for each point.) e.g. ‘Not surprised because he saw South Africa being overwhelmed by violence.’ ‘Very surprised because he had supported apartheid as a government minister.’ ‘Very surprised because he was an Afrikaner.’ ‘Not surprised because of South Africa’s terrible economic situation.’ ‘Not surprised because South Africa was facing a civil war.’ ‘Not surprised because he thought he still might be able to hold on to power after elections.’ ‘The National Party was losing support and he had to do something.’ ‘Not surprised because he was very religious and believed that God had chosen him to lead South Africa in a new direction.’	10

The UN Plan created two different states in Palestine, one Arab and the other one Jewish. The Arabs did not like this because they just wanted an Arab state. They expected this because the British government had said it was opposed to the creation of a Jewish state. They did not think that the Jews had any claim to a country in Palestine because the Arabs had lived there for hundreds of years. They expected the whole of Palestine to become one Arab state.’ OR e.g. ‘I think this was very surprising. They had been trying to get an Arab state in Palestine for years and the UN Plan gave them this. It identified three areas all of which would be under Arab control – Galilee, a coastal strip and the interior of the country. In other words, they got most of what they wanted. So, it is surprising that they rejected this.’

22(b)	Why did the issue of Palestinian refugees remain important after 1948?	6
	Level 3 – Explains ONE reason 4–5 (Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. ‘The main reason the refugee issue remained important after 1948 was because of the effect of a series of wars. In 1948 Arabs fled from their villages and ended up in refugee camps. Israel would only let them back if Arab states let them keep the land it had won in the war. Arab states refused. The war of 1967 made the situation even worse, with Palestinians fleeing from Sinai, Gaza, Jerusalem and the West Bank. Over half the West Bank and a third of Gaza ended up in Israeli hands, making it more difficult for refugees to return. This resulted in millions of refugees in camps in Arab countries around the Middle East. These numbers ensured that it would remain an important issue.’
	Level 2 – Identifies AND/OR describes reasons 2–3 (One mark for each identification/description) e.g. ‘The Israeli policy of encouraging Jewish settlers made it impossible for Arabs to return home.’ ‘It was convenient for Arab states to keep the refugee problem alive because it put Israel in a bad light.’ ‘The PLO’s support for the refugees ensured they remained an important issue.’ ‘Palestinian terrorism in the 1960s made sure it remained an important issue.’ ‘After the 1948 and 1967 wars, Israel gained more Palestinian territory making more people homeless.’

For a time, the PLO used terrorism to gain publicity for their cause and this was often counter-productive. In 1972, massive publicity was gained for the death of 11 Israeli athletes at the Munich Olympic Games, and in 1976, for the hijacking of a French plane which was taken to Entebbe in Uganda. These terrorist acts gained publicity but alienated international support for the PLO because the incidents took lives and involved Western powers. This rather deflected from the issue of the Palestinians because the terrorism became the story and the Palestinians were not helped.’ OR e.g. ‘The PLO has done a lot to help the Palestinians. The most important thing it has done is to get other countries to accept that there would be no lasting peace in the Middle East without the Palestinian issue being dealt with. The PLO was involved in the negotiations leading to the Oslo Agreement in 1993. This led to the creation of the Palestinian Authority to control Gaza and part of the West Bank. This led to the States of Palestine being recognised around the world. This was a major achievement of the PLO and meant that some Palestinian people were able to govern themselves.’	10 10 7–9 5–6 4–6
