Paper 1

May/June 2020MARK SCHEMEMaximum Mark: 60

Published

Students did not sit exam papers in the June 2020 series due to the Covid-19 global pandemic.

This mark scheme is published to support teachers and students and should be read together with the question paper. It shows the requirements of the exam. The answer column of the mark scheme shows the proposed basis on which Examiners would award marks for this exam. Where appropriate, this column also provides the most likely acceptable alternative responses expected from students. Examiners usually review the mark scheme after they have seen student responses and update the mark scheme if appropriate. In the June series, Examiners were unable to consider the acceptability of alternative responses, as there were no student responses to consider.

Mark schemes should usually be read together with the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers. However, because students did not sit exam papers, there is no Principal Examiner Report for Teachers for the June 2020 series.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the June 2020 series for most Cambridge IGCSE™ and Cambridge International A & AS Level components, and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 93 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONSApplying the Mark Scheme

- When marking a response the overall criteria to be considered should be – ‘How good is this response to this question?’
- The ‘Level Descriptor’ should be used to decide the Level into which the quality of the answer fits.
- Exhaustive lists of possible facts are not given in the mark scheme, as there is often a choice of factual knowledge that candidates may use.
- WHERE EXAMPLES OF RESPONSES ARE GIVEN, THESE ARE NOT PRESCRIPTIVE, BUT ARE INTENDED AS A GUIDE. It is not possible to cover every possible type of response within a levels of response mark scheme and examiners are expected to use their professional judgement at all times in ensuring that responses are placed in the correct levels and given an appropriate mark within that level. If you cannot resolve the issue please contact your team leader.
- Marking must be positive. Marks must not be deducted for inaccurate or irrelevant parts of answers. In itself, poor use of historical terminology, spelling, grammar or handwriting does not affect the mark. The overall quality of the answer to the question should be judged.
- If a candidate reaches a particular level s/he must be rewarded with a mark within that level. It is not necessary to work through the levels.
- The full range of marks should be used. Do not be afraid to award full marks or no marks. Failure to do this will seriously affect the distribution of marks. Be prepared to reward candidates who show any level of understanding. The mark scheme starts from basic acceptable response. Where a band of marks is indicated for a level these marks should be used with reference to the development of the answer within that level.
- Ensure that the candidate has received marks for the questions they have answered and that these marks are recorded against the correct question.

Assessment Objectives

- (a) recall, description
- (b) recall, explanation
- (c) recall, explanation and analysis

Question	Answer	Marks
1(a)	Describe the events that led to Rome becoming the capital of Italy in 1871.	4
	Level 1 One mark for each relevant point; additional mark for supporting detail 1–4 e.g. ‘In 1870 the French withdrew from Rome meaning it was no longer protected.’ ‘There were demonstrations in favour of Italy taking Rome.’ ‘Victor Emmanuel offered to enter Rome with his army to protect the Pope. He refused.’ ‘The Italian army laid siege and the Papal army was defeated.’ ‘Rome was annexed to Italy after a plebiscite.’ ‘The Pope declared himself a prisoner in the Vatican.’ ‘In July 1871 Rome became the capital of Italy.’

Question	Answer	Marks
1(b)	Why did Garibaldi and ‘the Thousand’ sail to Sicily in 1860?	6
	Level 4 Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 Explains ONE reason (Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. ‘Garibaldi and the Thousand sailed to Sicily because Garibaldi wanted to unify Italy. Part of his plan was to conquer the Kingdom of Two Sicilies which was ruled over by the King of Naples. The island of Sicily made up part of this kingdom and Garibaldi thought that if he conquered Sicily first, he could then go on and conquer the whole kingdom. This would be a big step towards unifying Italy.’		4–5
	Level 2 Identifies AND / OR describes reasons (One mark for each identification/description) e.g. ‘They did this because a revolt had started in Palermo in Sicily.’ ‘He was encouraged to do this because of Piedmont’s victory over the Austrians in 1859.’ ‘Garibaldi wanted to unite southern Italy with Piedmont.’ ‘He wanted to defeat Neapolitan rule.’		2–3
	Level 1 General answer lacking specific contextual knowledge e.g. ‘They did this because they wanted to conquer Sicily.’		1

1(c)	‘The power of Piedmont was the decisive factor in the achievement of Italian unification.’ How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer. Level 5 Explains with evaluation of ‘how far’ As Level 4 plus evaluation. Level 4 Explanation of both sides A L4 answer will have a minimum of three explanations (2 on one side; 1 on the other.) This will be worth a mark of 7. Fuller explanation of one issue to be given two marks. An answer which only has one explanation on one side of the argument cannot be awarded more than 8. Level 3 One sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. ‘I think this is right. Piedmont was probably the most powerful country in Italy and in 1859 it defeated Austria. As a result of this it took control of Lombardy in the Peace of Prague. This was an important step towards uniting Italy. It is also important that after Garibaldi had conquered Sicily and Naples, he had to hand it all over to Piedmont because of the powerful Piedmontese army that had arrived. The power of Piedmont meant it was the only country in Italy that was powerful enough to unite it.’ OR e.g. ‘I do not agree. Although Piedmont had a strong army, Cavour its Prime Minister did not have the vision to bring about a united Italy. He just wanted a strong and enlarged Piedmont. Garibaldi was responsible for uniting Italy. It was he that conquered Sicily and then Naples. He then handed all this over to Piedmont which had the effect of uniting southern Italy with the north and was an enormous step towards overall unification. Cavour would have never conquered southern Italy in the same way. This shows that it was Garibaldi that was crucial to unification.’	10 10 7–9 4–6

Question	Answer	Marks
1(c)	Level 2 Identifies AND/OR describes One mark for each point. e.g. ‘It was the power of Piedmont that defeated Austria.’ ‘It was Piedmont’s army that finally conquered Rome.’ ‘Garibaldi had no choice but to hand over his conquests in the south to Piedmont because of its power.’ ‘It was not the power of Piedmont but the clever diplomacy of Cavour – like getting Napoleon III involved.’ ‘It was Garibaldi’s expedition that led to southern Italy uniting with Piedmont.’ ‘It was the ideas of Mazzini that really brought about unification.’ ‘In the crucial war with Austria in 1859 it was the French that made victory possible.’	2–3
	Level 1 General answer lacking specific contextual knowledge e.g. ‘The power of Piedmont was very important and helped Italy unify. Without this power it would not have been unified.’	1

2(b)	Why was the formation of the North German Confederation important to Bismarck?	6
	Level 4 Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 Explains ONE reason (Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. 'It was important to Bismarck because it was run by Prussia, which now became the most powerful state in Germany. The King of Prussia was President of the Confederation, commander-in-chief of its armed forces and could declare war and peace. This shows how it was dominated by Prussia. The Confederation would do what Bismarck wanted and he could use it in the next step of his plans.'		4–5
	Level 2 Identifies AND / OR describes reasons (One mark for each identification/description) e.g. 'It was important because several states like Hanover had to join with Prussia.' 'It meant that Prussia was much stronger.' 'It was a big step towards unification of Germany.' 'It made Austria much weaker in Germany.'		2–3

2(c)	How far were Prussia's wars in the period 1864 to 1871 deliberately brought about by Bismarck? Explain your answer.	10
	Level 5 Explains with evaluation of 'how far' 10 As Level 4 plus evaluation.
	Level 4 Explanation of both sides 7–9 A L4 answer will have a minimum of three explanations (2 on one side; 1 on the other.) This will be worth a mark of 7. Fuller explanation of one issue to be given two marks. An answer which only has one explanation on one side of the argument cannot be awarded more than 8.
	Level 3 One sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks 4–6 More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. 'From the beginning Bismarck wanted to unify Germany under Prussia. He knew that Austria and France were big obstacles to this and so he tricked both countries into war with Prussia. He used the Schleswig-Holstein affair to manoeuvre Austria into war as Austria was Prussia's only rival in Germany and had to be dealt with. He tricked France into war by using the crisis over the Hohenzollern candidature for the Spanish throne. He deliberately changed the Ems telegram so that Napoleon would feel insulted and feel like he had to fight. Thus, in both cases the wars were deliberately brought about by Bismarck.' OR 'Bismarck was an opportunist who had no long-term plans, but did use opportunities as they arose. He hoped to manoeuvre Austria out of the Duchies by diplomacy but did not plan a war with Austria. The war with France may have been sparked off at the end by the Ems telegram but Bismarck did not plan all the events leading up to it. The fact that the Spanish throne became vacant and that Prince Leopold was offered the crown was just lucky for Bismarck. Once the opportunity for war with France was there, he took it, but he hadn't been plotting to bring the war about. Circumstances did that.'

'Bismarck's changing of the Ems telegram was designed to force the French into war.' 'Bismarck knew that he had to deal with Austria and France and so planned wars with both.' 'Bismarck used situations created by events like the affair over Schleswig-Holstein, he did not create them.'	2–3

3(b)	Why was the South unwilling to give up slavery?	6
	Level 4 Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 Explains ONE reason (Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. 'The South was unwilling to give up slavery because slaves were needed on its plantations. The South was largely rural and depended on agriculture. Plantations growing products like cotton and tobacco were essential to its economy. Slaves provided mass and cheap labour for the plantations. Getting rid of slavery would therefore damage their economy severely, so they were unwilling to give it up.'		4–5
	Level 2 Identifies AND / OR describes reasons (One mark for each identification/description) e.g. 'Slaves were essential for the plantations.' 'The South argued that white men were superior to black slaves.' 'People in the South claimed the slaves were better off as slaves because they were well treated.' 'The South claimed that if black people were not slaves they would be a burden on the South.' 'States in the South had a right to keep slaves if they wanted to.' 'Slaves were seen as property which people in the South had a right to keep.'		2–3

3(c)	'The North was to blame for the failure of Reconstruction.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer.	10
	Level 5 Explains with evaluation of 'how far' 10 As Level 4 plus evaluation.
	Level 4 Explanation of both sides. 7–9 A L4 answer will have a minimum of three explanations (2 on one side; 1 on the other.) This will be worth a mark of 7. Fuller explanation of one issue to be given two marks. An answer which only has one explanation on one side of the argument cannot be awarded more than 8.
	Level 3 One sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks 4–6 More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. 'I think the North was to blame. The problem was with Congressional Reconstruction. This was brought about by Radical Republicans who wanted to treat the South as a conquered nation, punishing it and making it pay for the cost of the war. They passed a series of radical measures which upset the South. For example the 14th Amendment which gave black Americans equal rights. They suspended the Southern governments and brought in the army to rule the South. All of this caused bitter resentment among white people in the South and led them to oppose Reconstruction. This led to its failure.' OR 'I disagree with this. I think it was the fault of the South. Many white people in the South thought they could go back to things as they were before the Civil War. As a result, they refused to give ex-slaves any rights. As soon as the war was over they passed Black Codes. These limited to rights of black people so that they could not vote or marry white people. White people in the South also opposed the Freedmen's Bureau which was trying to help and educate ex-slaves. Finally, many white people formed and joined the Ku Klux Klan to oppose Reconstruction, and they attacked and lynched black Americans. All of this shows that white people in the South were not going to let Reconstruction work.'

4(b)	Why did Britain think it necessary to go to war with China in the Opium Wars?	6
	Level 4 Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 Explains ONE reason (Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. 'British smugglers were taking opium into China illegally and making large profits. China was worried about the number of Chinese becoming addicted to opium and sent a letter to Queen Victoria asking her to stop the trade. When the British did noting the Chinese seized the opium belonging to British traders in Canton. The opium traders lost a lot of money. The British decided to go to war to get compensation for their traders.'		4–5
	Level 2 Identifies AND / OR describes reasons (One mark for each identification/description) e.g. 'China seized opium in Canton owned by British traders.' 'Ships bringing in opium were blockaded by the Chinese.' 'The British wanted compensation for the traders lost business.' 'Britain wanted to trade with China.' 	Level 3 One sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks 4–6 More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. ‘Economic motives were most important. The colonies provided European factories with the raw materials they needed to manufacture their products. The colonies also provided a market for European goods. European countries needed to control routes like the Suez Canal and the colonies themselves. This led to Europeans keeping control of these areas. It was all done so that European countries could trade and make money.’ OR e.g. ‘I think there were other reasons that were more important. One was religion. Christian missionaries went out to convert the natives to Christianity. They were also spreading western language and values. They established churches and preached to the local people. Question	Answer	Marks
5(b)	Why was the League of Nations unable to resolve all the international disputes of the 1920s?	6
	Level 4 Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 Explains ONE reason (Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. ‘One reason was that the League did not have an army of its own. This made it very difficult to stand up to major powers. This can be seen in the Corfu Incident in 1923. Mussolini rejected the League’s demand that he withdraw from Corfu., However, France’s armies were involved in the Ruhr, and Britain refused to help without France’s support. As a result, neither was prepared to act. This shows that without an army of its own, the League could not force Italy out. Eventually, the Council of Ambassadors ruled that Greece should apologise to Italy and pay compensation.’		4–5
	Level 2 Identifies AND / OR describes reasons (One mark for each identification/description) e.g. ‘The League had no army.’ ‘The League was not strong enough to stand up to major powers.’ ‘Britain and France were reluctant for the League to take action.’ ‘Britain and France did not want to take action against countries it wanted to be friendly with.’ ‘Some countries such as Poland ignored it during the Vilna dispute.’		2–3

5(c)	'The crisis over Manchuria had a more damaging impact on the League than the crisis over Abyssinia.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer.	10

	Level 3 One sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks 4–6 More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. 'I agree with the statement because the League failed over Manchuria. China asked for help but all the League did was ask the Japanese to withdraw. They refused and the League did little else other than set up a commission of inquiry. The Japanese invaded further into China. This was very damaging to the League. Japan had invaded a neighbouring country and this was exactly the kind of thing the League was meant to deal with. However, it was clear that if a strong country was aggressive against its neighbours, the League would do little. This showed both Hitler and Mussolini that if they wanted to be aggressive, they would get away with it.' OR e.g. 'I disagree. The Italian invasion of Abyssinia was much worse for the League. Italy invaded Abyssinia and had a much stronger army. Britain and France did not want to take action against Italy because they wanted it to be their ally against Germany. Nothing was done and Abyssinia was overrun. Haile Selassie spoke at the League of Nations and made clear how useless it was. This showed everyone that the League could not be taken seriously. From this moment it was simply irrelevant in international affairs. This was recognised by Hitler. As a result of the Abyssinian Crisis, nobody went to the League of Nations for help anymore.'

	Level 3 Explains ONE reason		4–5
	(Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. ‘This was important because it gave both countries a chance to train soldiers and test new equipment and tactics. New troops got experience so that they were ready for a future war, this was especially important for Italy. At the time of the re-militarisation of the Rhineland the German army was still weak and Hitler would have backed down if Britain and France had taken firm action. Munich was a disaster as it made clear to Hitler that if he went on and took the rest of Czechoslovakia then Britain and France would do nothing. This actually brought war closer because it encouraged Hitler. When Britain and France told him they would go to war if he attacked Poland, he simply did not believe them because of their persistence with appeasement.’ OR e.g. ‘I disagree with this. I do not think they stayed with the policy for too long. This is because Germany had been rearming and had much more powerful armed forces than Britain or France. In 1938, Britain was not ready for war. Chamberlain was desperately trying to increase the strength of British armed forces. The programme of rearmament was not completed until 1940. If appeasement had been ended earlier then it would have been a disaster and Britain would have been defeated.’		4–6

It was clear from the riots and demonstrations in Hungary that the only way the Soviet Union could keep control was by force. If the Soviets no longer had an army in Hungary and if other parties were allowed to form the government then Soviet control would be in great danger. There had also been demonstrations in countries like East Germany and Poland against the Soviets. If Hungarian defiance was allowed to continue, Soviet control over other parts of Eastern Europe would also be under threat.’ OR e.g. ‘I do not think that Soviet control was under any serious threat. It was changed several times. The original plan was to use 90% of the German army to advance through the Netherlands and capture Paris within 6 weeks. However, General von Moltke, who replaced Schlieffen, made changes. Firstly, he planned to avoid going through the Netherlands, just taking the army through Belgium. This would mean that the Germans could not use the vital rail link at Maastricht and would have a more narrow area through which to advance. German army was slowed down by the Belgians and the BEF. This was where the plan started to go wrong. Then he had to change it again because the Russians mobilised more quickly than the Germans expected, and troops had to be sent to the East. This weakened the German advance in the West. All this made it harder for the Germans to take Paris and defeat the French.’ OR e.g. ‘I think the BEF was most important. The BEF held the German army up at the Battle of Mons so that the Germans could not keep to the timetable of the Schlieffen Plan. The BEF’s actions at the Battle of Mons had allowed for the effective retreat of French Forces. British losses had been estimated at 1600 compared to the estimate 6000–10 000 lost by the Germans. Opposition to the war grew and when sailors at Kiel mutinied riots broke out across the country and the Kaiser had to abdicate. It was the culmination of these internal weaknesses that brought in a government that was willing to sign an armistice.’ OR e.g. ‘I think a more important reason for the German defeat was the failure of the German offensive in 1918. At the beginning of 1918, Germany needed a quick victory before American troops arrived in Europe in large numbers. Ludendorff came up with one last plan to smash the Allies. He launched his offensive in March 1918 and came within five miles of Paris. However, German casualties were high and soon the German advance was stopped. The Germans had moved out from the Hindenburg Line and turned the war into one of movement, but the Allies were better at this with more tanks and aircraft. The German army was in a desperate state relying on new young untrained soldiers. Some soldiers deserted because of low morale. The failure of the offensive meant the German army was defeated.’

Stresemann saved the situation by stabilising the economy by introducing a new currency – the Rentenmark. This helped recovery. Through the Dawes Plan he also managed to get 800 million marks in loans from America. This was used for public works; building things like swimming pools and sports facilities, helping to increase employment. Overall, his policies led to an economic revival, with industrial production and exports increasing.’ OR e.g. ‘I think he just covered up the cracks in Germany. He never solved the problem of unemployment which stayed high. Also, because of the Dawes Plan, much of the recovery was built on American loans, not on a real recovery by Germany. This meant that when something went wrong Germany’s economy collapsed again. When the Wall Street Crash happened in 1929, US loans to Germany were recalled. They were given loans if they got married, family allowances were introduced, and women were given medals for having lots of children. Some of these policies continued in the war years when the Nazis were still trying to increase the birth rate. Eventually more women were needed to work. Hitler and many leading Nazis still thought that women should be at home having children. Women were not allowed to join the armed forces.’ OR e.g. ‘I think the Nazis changed their attitudes towards women because of the war. At first they tried to stop women going out to work. They wanted the jobs for the men and their believed a woman’s place was at home looking after the family. However, during the war women were needed at work and attitudes changed. This was because men had to fight, and the Nazis policy of rearmament meant that women were needed in armaments factories. Some changes were even introduced before the war started. The marriage loan was cancelled, and women had to do compulsory duty for a year on farms and other places.’

There was a lot of opposition to it in the countryside because it meant that peasants lost their own land. Many peasants had to be forced to give up their land, which they had fought for in the revolution. This caused enormous disruption and the production of food fell. This led to a famine in 1932–3. Yet the government still exported grain. Millions of peasants starved to death.’ OR e.g. ‘I do not agree as I think it was a success for the USSR. 	Level 4 Explains TWO reasons		6

It meant cars were produced in enormous numbers cheaply, so that more people could afford them. This led to many more people finding jobs in the car industry and being able to buy goods with their wages. Once people had cars, new roads had to be built and this gave people jobs. Other industries benefited like glass, rubber and leather. People could also go on holiday if they had a car, and so holiday resorts and gas stations had to be built.' OR e.g. 'Republican policies were more important. They were designed to encourage and help businesses. Low taxes meant that people had more money to spend on American goods that were being produced. This created more jobs. Rich people also had more money to invest in industries which could expand and buy new equipment. Republican policies of having tariffs on imports also helped. 	Level 4 Explains TWO reasons		6
	Level 3 Explains ONE reason (Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. ‘The Wall Street Crash had an important impact on the economy because it destroyed the most important thing to business – confidence. As banks began to fail people lost confidence in them and withdrew their savings. The communes controlled all aspects of the workers’ lives including their work, homes, their education and their leisure time. This is what Mao had hoped for.’ OR e.g. ‘The communes were a disaster in one important way. The aim of the Great Leap Forward and the communes was to increase industrial production. This was to be done in communes through backyard furnaces where steel and machinery would be produced. Even worse, workers were taken away from the fields to work on the furnaces and soon crops were not being harvested and there was a shortage of food. 	Level 4 Explanation of both sides A L4 answer will have a minimum of three explanations (2 on one side; 1 on the other.) This will be worth a mark of 7. 	Level 3 One sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. ‘The Group Areas Act was very important for black South Africans. The Act excluded black South Africans from living in the most developed areas like Cape Town. These areas were reserved for white people. Many black South Africans worked in cities, but they were no longer allowed to live in them. This meant that black South Africans had to commute long distances. Many black people were forcibly moved for living in the wrong areas. They were given much smaller areas to live in. This all meant that many aspects of life deteriorated for black South Africans.’ OR e.g. ‘I think the Bantu Education Act was more important. It was a real blow for black children because it brought their education entirely under the control of the government. Black schools were used to prepare children for life in the homelands, instead of the cities where white people would live. Black children would also follow different courses and would not be taught in English. Missionary schools which provided some of the best education for children were closed down. The terms of the Bantu Education Act, therefore, greatly restricted the future prospects of black South Africans.’	4–6

	Level 3 Explains ONE reason (Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. ‘There was an upsurge in violence partly because of P W Botha’s reforms in the early 1980s. These reforms gave black South Africans virtually nothing and made clear that the government had every intention of keeping all the political power in the hands of white people. This caused much disappointment, especially for the urban black population. At the same time the reforms gave the impression that the government was weakening. The mood in the townships turned to one of anger and defiance. This led to the riots that followed.’		4–5

They also felt that the UN had no right to partition their land which they regarded as their homeland.' OR e.g. 'The Jews disliked parts of the plan. They were very unhappy about Jerusalem being excluded from the proposed Jewish state. The Irgun disliked the Plan because they had not got all of what they regarded as their homeland. Hamas has launched attacks on Israeli civilians and soldiers and has used suicide bombings and rocket attacks. Its aim is the establishment of an Islamic state in Palestine, which is not something the Israelis will accept. All this has made peace much harder to achieve.’ OR e.g. ‘There have been divisions in Israel over the question of the West Bank and Gaza.
