October/November 2023

MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 60

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2023 series for most Cambridge IGCSE, Cambridge International A and AS Level components, and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 87 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Applying the Mark Scheme

- When marking a response the overall criteria to be considered should be – ‘How good is this response to this question?’
- The ‘Level Descriptor’ should be used to decide the Level into which the quality of the answer fits.
- Exhaustive lists of possible facts are not given in the mark scheme, as there is often a choice of factual knowledge that candidates may use.
- WHERE EXAMPLES OF RESPONSES ARE GIVEN, THESE ARE NOT PRESCRIPTIVE, BUT ARE INTENDED AS A GUIDE. It is not possible to cover every possible type of response within a levels of response mark scheme and examiners are expected to use their professional judgement at all times in ensuring that responses are placed in the correct levels and given an appropriate mark within that level.
- Marking must be positive. Marks must not be deducted for inaccurate or irrelevant parts of answers. In itself, poor use of historical terminology, spelling, grammar or handwriting does not affect the mark. The overall quality of the answer to the question should be judged.
- If a candidate reaches a particular level, s/he must be rewarded with a mark within that level. It is not necessary to work through the levels.
- The full range of marks should be used. Do not be afraid to award full marks or no marks. Failure to do this will seriously affect the distribution of marks. Be prepared to reward candidates who show any level of understanding. The mark scheme starts from basic acceptable response. Where a band of marks is indicated for a level these marks should be used with reference to the development of the answer within that level.

2(c)	Which was more important in the struggle for Italian unification: Rome or Piedmont? Explain your answer.	10
	Level 5 Explains with evaluation of ‘which was more important’ As Level 4 plus evaluation.	10
	Level 4 Explanation of both sides A L4 answer will have a minimum of three explanations (2 on one side; 1 on the other). This will be worth a mark of 7. Fuller explanation of one issue to be given two marks. An answer which only has one explanation on one side of the argument cannot be awarded more than 8.	7–9
	Level 3 One-sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. ‘Piedmont was more important. It was probably the most powerful region in Italy and in 1859 it defeated Austria. As a result of this it took control of Lombardy in the Peace of Prague. This was an important step towards uniting Italy. It is also important that after Garibaldi had conquered Sicily and Naples, he had to hand it all over to Piedmont because of the powerful Piedmontese army that had arrived. The power of Piedmont meant it was the only country in Italy that was powerful enough to unite it.’ OR e.g. ‘Although Rome became the capital of Italy in 1871, it was more of a hindrance to unification. The Pope reversed his support for the 1848–49 revolutions because he did not want to fight Catholic Austria and this contributed to the defeat of Charles Albert, meaning unification was slower than it might have been.’	4–6
	Level 2 Identifies AND / OR describes One mark for each point. e.g. ‘Piedmont defeated Austria.’ ‘Piedmont was the most industrialised and wealthy area of Italy.’ ‘Piedmont’s importance is seen as Garibaldi handed over conquered territories to the Piedmontese army.’ ‘Rome was important as it became the capital.’ ‘Sometimes Rome held back the process of unification.’ ‘The Pope did not want to fight Catholic Austria so reversed his support for the 1848–49 revolutions.’	2–3

3(b)	Why was the Zollverein important in the unification of Germany?	6
	Level 4 Explains TWO reasons	6
	Level 3 Explains ONE reason	4–5
	(Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. 'The Zollverein was important to unification because it helped to make the German states wealthier and helped to develop a sense of unity between them. Member states had a common system of tariffs and they abolished all internal customs barriers. Austria was excluded. Before this, the flow of trade had been held up at hundreds of different customs posts, penalised by varying tariff rates and subjected to differing customs regulations. The Zollverein therefore helped to increase the prosperity and trade of member states.'
	Level 2 Identifies AND / OR describes reasons	2–3

	Level 3 One-sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. ‘I think Bismarck was an opportunist. He could manipulate people and countries and provoke quarrels. Bismarck wanted to control northern Germany. He took the opportunity to do this by picking a war with Austria over Schleswig-Holstein and proposing a new North German Confederation. The Austrians were defeated and the Treaty of Prague made Bismarck a hero as the North German Confederation became all powerful.’ OR e.g. ‘However, sometimes it looks as though Bismarck had a plan. The way he dealt with Austria at the Treaty of Prague, where he was particularly lenient, shows that he had a possible plan in mind. He needed to keep Austria out of any future war against France if Prussia was to be successful in defeating the French.’	4–6
	Level 2 Identifies AND / OR describes One mark for each point. e.g. ‘He planned to make Prussia strong.’ ‘He knew that war with Austria was likely at some point.’ ‘He was just an opportunist with no overall plan.’ ‘He only wanted to control northern Germany.’ ‘He knew he had a very strong army.’	2–3

	Level 4 Explanation of both sides 7–9 A L4 answer will have a minimum of three explanations (2 on one side; 1 on the other). This will be worth a mark of 7. Fuller explanation of one issue to be given two marks. An answer which only has one explanation on one side of the argument cannot be awarded more than 8.
	Level 3 One-sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks 4–6 More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. ‘The defeat of the South in the Civil War resulted in slavery being abolished. Black Americans were, therefore, free. This meant many former slaves moved states. Black labourers on the plantations of the South now had to be paid. Some decided to leave to gain higher wages in the North.’ OR e.g. ‘The treatment of the ex-slave population was bad. Black Americans were discriminated against and were victims of racial prejudice. The Ku Klux Klan was formed to terrorise black Americans. In Alabama and Texas, Black Codes were introduced that limited rights and tolerated forms of discrimination.’
	Level 2 Identifies AND / OR describes 2–3 One mark for each point. e.g. ‘Black Americans were better off because they were free.’ ‘They could vote.’ ‘They could move between states freely.’ ‘Pay was low for black people.’ ‘Black Americans were terrorised in the South.’ ‘Black Codes were introduced in the South.’

5(b)	Why did many Germans think the Treaty of Versailles was too harsh?	6
	Level 4 Explains TWO reasons	6
	Level 3 Explains ONE reason 4–5 (Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. ‘The Germans were outraged because the War Guilt Clause was included in the Treaty which they thought was totally unfair. The Allies wanted to establish a legal basis for reparations: if you cause damage and it is entirely your fault, then you must pay compensation. The Germans felt this rubbed salt into their wounds and was vindictive. They were adamant that they were not totally responsible for starting the war. They argued that other countries such as Russia and Britain were also to blame. They thought they were being blamed because they were the losers.’
	Level 2 Identifies AND / OR describes reasons 2–3 (One mark for each identification/description) e.g. ‘The Germans felt the Treaty was a ‘Diktat’, not a negotiation.’ ‘Many Germans were not aware that Germany had surrendered; they thought they had stopped fighting to make peace.’ ‘They felt they were treated as a defeated nation.’ ‘The Germans hated having to accept blame for starting the war.’ ‘The Germans had to pay reparations.’ ‘They were deprived of important industrial areas.’ ‘The Germans claimed the Allies were trying to bankrupt Germany with high reparations.’ ‘They thought the loss of 7 million subjects and 13% of their territory was too harsh.’ ‘They resented the losses to Poland as it split Germany in two.’ ‘The Germans felt the disarmament clauses left Germany defenceless against France.’

	Level 3 One-sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. ‘Austria was punished very harshly. The empire was broken up and former Austrian territory was given to Czechoslovakia, Poland, Yugoslavia, Romania and Italy. Not only was this a blow to Austrian pride, it meant that Austria lost valuable land which contained resources such as coal as well as productive farming areas. This contributed to the severe economic problems which faced Austria. By 1922, Austria was on the verge of economic collapse and had to ask the League of Nations for support. This shows how harshly Austria was treated.’ OR e.g. ‘However, it could be argued that Turkey was treated more harshly. In fact, the feeling against the peace settlement was so strong that the terms of the Treaty of Sèvres had to be renegotiated in 1924. Turkey lost provinces in the Middle East to Britain and France. Land was also lost to Greece and Italy. The Dardanelles became an international waterway. Many Turks were so angry at the way the country had been treated that they joined the nationalist movement which was led by Kemal. He challenged the treaty by forcing the Greeks out of Smyrna which had been Turkish territory. This led to the renegotiation of the treaty.’	4–6

6(c)	‘Britain and France were responsible for the outbreak of war in 1939.’ How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer.	10
	Level 5 Explains with evaluation of ‘how far’ As Level 4 plus evaluation.	10
	Level 4 Explanation of both sides A L4 answer will have a minimum of three explanations (2 on one side; 1 on the other). This will be worth a mark of 7. Fuller explanation of one issue to be given two marks. An answer which only has one explanation on one side of the argument cannot be awarded more than 8.	7–9
	Level 3 One-sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. ‘Britain and France were to blame. They declared war in September because Germany invaded Poland. However, Hitler only did this because he thought he would get away with it. Britain and France had been following a policy of appeasement. This meant that every time Germany took aggressive actions such as the Anschluss with Austria, taking over the Sudetenland and invading Czechoslovakia, they did nothing. Although Britain and France promised to help Poland if it was attacked, Hitler thought that they would do nothing. So they could be blamed for Germany invading Poland and the start of the Second World War.’ OR e.g. ‘I do not think they were responsible. Hitler was determined to achieve domination of Europe and this meant that sooner or later there would be a war. He had broken the terms of the Treaty of Versailles in many ways, had built up German armed forces and had taken over Czechoslovakia by force. He wanted to unite all German speakers. The invasion of Poland in 1939 was part of this plan and led to war breaking out in that year. So it was Hitler who was to blame.’	4–6

7(b)	Why was Poland a cause of tension between the Allied powers in 1945?	6
	Level 4 Explains TWO reasons	6
	Level 3 Explains ONE reason	4–5
	(Four marks for one explanation, five marks for full explanation) e.g. 'At Yalta it was agreed that in Poland a provisional government was to be established comprising pro-Soviet Lublin Poles and exiled London Poles who had fled in 1939. It was agreed there would be free elections. 	Level 3 One-sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. ‘It would be unfair to blame Truman because Stalin was responsible for much of the tension which led to the Cold War. Having freed much of Eastern Europe from Nazi control, the Red Army remained in occupation and, rather than allowing free elections, the USSR started to impose communist rule on these countries. This was seen by the USA as a Soviet attempt to spread communism around the world.’ OR e.g. ‘On the other hand, Truman made the tension worse and antagonised Stalin. In July 1945, the Americans had successfully tested an atomic bomb. Truman had not told Stalin about this before using the bomb and the USA refused to share the secret of how to make atomic bombs. The NKVD (secret police) were ruthless and efficient in capturing those who spoke against the regime or were accused of speaking out against the regime. Show trials were held in which former Bolsheviks were tried and executed. These were the start of the purges where a wide range of 'opponents' were rounded up, executed or sent to the gulags. This created a climate of fear where no one was prepared to speak out against Stalin for fear of the consequences, and this gave Stalin control.' OR e.g. 'However, Stalin also controlled propaganda and this gave him control. The only messages people heard were positive – always about how Stalin was helping the Soviet Union and the country was making great progress industrially. People wanted to believe that Russia was a strong and great country and so many were willing to believe what they were told. They were encouraged to look up to Stalin as a father figure who had their best interests at heart. In South Africa in the 1940s, the Afrikaners were generally less well off than English-speaking white South Africans. However, apartheid changed this. Afrikaner farmers were given huge state support and this enabled them to increase their profits. Afrikaners also made inroads into the professions. For example, many doctors and lawyers of Afrikaner origin were appointed and some were appointed to senior government positions. The government was keen to promote Afrikaners and state contracts were often given to their businesses.’ OR e.g. ‘However, while the Afrikaners generally benefited from apartheid, non-white South Africans most definitely did not. Although South Africa grew more prosperous in the 1950s and 1960s, the non-white people did not benefit from these changes. Their wages remained the same, which in real terms meant they were worse off. 	Level 3 One-sided explanation OR one explanation of both sides 5 to 6 marks More detailed explanation of one issue to be given two marks. e.g. ‘The Camp David agreements brought some benefits to both sides. The treaty of Washington which followed secured peace between Israel and Egypt. This was the start of diplomatic relations between Egypt and Israel and showed that it was possible for the two sides to negotiate. Israel agreed to remove troops from the Sinai peninsula which was to Egypt’s advantage. The Arabs would also benefit from further meetings on the Palestinian issue and the settlements in the West Bank and Gaza. Meanwhile, the Israelis hoped the agreement would bring peace and security to Israel.’ OR e.g. ‘However, it could be argued that it was Israel which benefited most. As a result of the agreements, Israel would benefit by securing oil supplies from Egypt and re-opening commercial flights which would benefit trade. They were also seen by the world as being less aggressive and willing to broker peace. However, the deal did not please many Arab states and Egypt was suspended from the Arab League. Sadat also became very unpopular and was assassinated by Egyptian soldiers in 1981.’	4–6
