This document consists of 15 printed pages, 1 blank page and 1 insert.

SECTION A: CORE CONTENT

Answer any two questions from this Section.

- 1 Read the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

In April 1848 Pope Pius IX issued the famous Allocution. The Allocution shocked Italian nationalists as it ended their dream.

From a British history textbook published in 2008.

- (a) Describe the part played by Pope Pius IX in revolutionary events in Italy in 1848–9. [5]
- (b) Why were the revolutions of 1848 finally unsuccessful? [7]
- (c) 'Nationalism was the most important cause of the revolutions of 1848–9.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer. [8]

- 2 Read the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

I believe that the principal requirement for the improvement of Italy's future is to lift up her reputation once more. I am sure that the achievements of our soldiers in Eastern Europe will help the future state more than all that has been done by those who hoped to regenerate her with speeches and writings.

Cavour speaking to the Piedmontese Parliament, February 1855.

- (a) Describe the part played by Charles Albert in the events of 1848–9. [5]
- (b) Why was Cavour's role in Piedmontese politics between 1852 and 1859 important? [7]
- (c) 'Napoleon III of France contributed more to the unification of Italy than did Mazzini.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer. [8]

3 Read the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

I have heard news that an ultimatum has been sent from Paris to the King of Prussia, saying he should forbid his relative to accept the crown, otherwise war!! I am quite beside myself over this example of French insolence; the French nation deserves a merciless thrashing.

Cosima Wagner, the wife of the famous composer, writing in her diary, 13 July 1870.

- (a) Describe the events of 1848–50 which led to the Treaty of Olmütz in 1850. [5]
- (b) Why did the Prussians win the war of 1866? [7]
- (c) 'The Ems Telegram was the main reason for the outbreak of the Franco-Prussian War in 1870.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer. [8]

4 Read the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

Japan had been ruled for 268 years by the Shoguns. During this time Japan had remained a feudal agricultural state based on lords, domains and samurai.

From a British history textbook published in 1985.

- (a) Describe Perry's missions to Japan. [5]
- (b) Why were the treaties signed by Japan in the middle of the nineteenth century called 'unequal'? [7]
- (c) 'The main reason for the modernisation of Japan was the removal of the feudal system.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer. [8]

5 Read the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

The Treaty represented an uneasy compromise between Wilson's idealism, French security requirements and British common sense.

A British historian speaking in 1995 about the Treaty of Versailles.

DEPTH STUDY E: SOUTHERN AFRICA IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

17 Read the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

During the 1920s and 1930s blacks greatly outnumbered the whites but the weakness of their resistance is not surprising. Whites not only owned the farms and businesses which provided black jobs but controlled the army and police force as well. The whites were united in their intention of 'keeping blacks in their place'. It was against this background that black resistance began to develop.

From a British school textbook published in 2001.

- (a) Describe the development of the South African economy in the years up to 1948. [5]
- (b) Why was there little resistance to segregation before 1948? [7]
- (c) 'Before 1948, governments followed segregation policies for economic reasons.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer. [8]

18 Read the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

I have no hope of real change from this government unless it is forced. I call on the international community to apply harsh sanctions against this government to help establish a new, non-racial, democratic South Africa.

Desmond Tutu, the Archbishop of Cape Town, speaking in 1986.

- (a) What reforms did Botha introduce in the late 1970s and early 1980s? [5]

19 Look at the photograph, and then answer the questions which follow.

A photograph of a SWAPO protest in 1978.

- (a) Describe the German colonisation of Namibia to 1900. [5]
- (b) Why did the Namibians protest against South African rule in the 1920s? [7]
- (c) 'The United Nations was responsible for the achievement of Namibian independence.' How far do you agree with this statement? Explain your answer. [8]

DEPTH STUDY F: ISRAELIS AND PALESTINIANS, 1945–c.1994

20 Read the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

Defying the United Nations' Charter and international law, the Anglo-French imperialists have attacked the independent Egyptian Republic. The Israeli attack on Egypt was just the first step in the plot by England, France and Israel to spread their control to all Arab states.

From the Russian newspaper Pravda, November 1956.

- (a) Describe how the creation of Israel in 1948–9 affected the Arab states at that time. [5]
- (b) Why was Nasser's coming to power a concern for Israel? [7]
- (c) How far was the Suez War of 1956 an Arab-Israeli conflict? Explain your answer. [8]

21 Look at the photograph, and then answer the questions which follow.

A photograph of a Palestinian protester in Hebron.

- (a) Describe the Israeli response to the Intifada. [5]
- (b) Why were the occupied territories a constant source of tension? [7]
- (c) In the 1980s and 1990s how far did Israelis differ amongst themselves on how to deal with their Arab neighbours? Explain your answer. [8]

DEPTH STUDY G: THE CREATION OF MODERN INDUSTRIAL SOCIETY

22 Read the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

The conclusion I have come to for the working of my mill for eleven hours instead of twelve hours each day is that as much yarn and cotton is being produced. It is, therefore, my intention to make a further reduction to ten and a half hours without the slightest fear of suffering loss.

I find the hands work with greater energy and spirit. They are more cheerful and happy.

From a letter written by a Lancashire cotton mill owner in 1845.

- (a) For what purposes was coal used in the first half of the nineteenth century? [5]
- (b) Why was there increasing demand for cotton goods in the nineteenth century? [7]
- (c) How far were conditions in textile mills improved in the nineteenth century? Explain your answer. [8]

23 Read the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

We prefer to take our chance with cholera than be bullied into health. There is nothing a man hates more than being cleaned against his will, or having his floors swept, his walls whitewashed or his pet dungheap cleared away all at the command of a sanitary bailiff.

From a British newspaper published in 1854.

- (a) Describe living conditions in 'back-to-back' houses. [5]
- (b) Why were poor living conditions in towns not improved before 1848? [7]

DEPTH STUDY H: THE IMPACT OF WESTERN IMPERIALISM IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY

24 Read the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

Before 1830 China was isolated from the West. Foreigners trading with China were confined to Guangzhou in the South. At Guangzhou British traders bought and sold goods. But in 1839, the Chinese made a determined attempt to stop the opium trade. This gave the British government an excuse to send warships to China.

From a British school textbook published in 1985.

- (a) What was China's attitude towards foreign countries in the early-nineteenth century? [5]
- (b) Why did European countries wish to establish themselves in China? [7]
- (c) How successfully did Western countries extend their influence in China in the nineteenth century? Explain your answer. [8]

25 Read the extract, and then answer the questions which follow.

In 1876 Queen Victoria announced that her Indian subjects were 'happy under my rule and loyal to my throne'. Henceforward she was to adopt the title of 'Empress of India'. This new imperial rule was confirmed by most of India's princes and Indians of importance and influence.

From a British school textbook published in 2006.

- (a) Describe how India was ruled by Britain before 1857. [5]
- (b) Why was there opposition to British rule in India by 1857? [7]
- (c) How far did the people of India benefit from British rule after 1857? Explain your answer. [8]
