Source C

It is my duty to inform you of the wicked, detestable behaviour of these vagabonds that wander the country. They steal clothes, horses, pigs and poultry to the distress of decent people.

[Thomas Harman, a member of the gentry, writing in his book A Warning for Common Cursitors, called Vagabonds, published in 1567]

QUESTION 5

Read the interpretation below and then answer the question which follows.

Sir Francis Walsingham's aim was to destroy Mary, Queen of Scots. He encouraged plots carried out in her name of which she had no knowledge. With the Babington Plot he finally obtained the result he wanted. Babington's letters vaguely mentioned the removal of Queen Elizabeth. Due to her long years of suffering and illegal imprisonment she merely acknowledged his plans. She was not a threat to Elizabeth.

[An extract from the website of the Marie Stuart Society, dedicated to promoting the life of Mary, Queen of Scots]

How far do you agree with this interpretation of the threat from Mary, Queen of Scots? [16]

[In your answer you should refer to how and why interpretations of this issue differ. Use your own knowledge and understanding of the wider historical debate over this issue to reach a well-supported judgement.]

Marks for spelling, punctuation and the accurate use of grammar and specialist terms are allocated to this question. [3]
