INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

The number of marks is given in brackets at the end of each question.

Question 5 will assess your ability to construct a balanced, reasoned and well-substantiated extended response.

In addition, your answer to question 5 will assess your ability to spell, punctuate and use grammar accurately and use a wide range of specialist language as appropriate.

The sources and interpretations used in this examination paper may have been amended, adapted or abridged from the stated published work in order to make the wording more accessible.

Answer all questions.

QUESTION 1

This question is about the Catholic threat.

Study the sources below and then answer the question which follows.

Source A

[An engraving showing Edmund Campion, a Catholic priest, in the Tower of London]

Source B

Any priest holding a Catholic service, and anyone attending, will pay a large fine and be imprisoned for a year. Anyone who tries to persuade people to disobey Elizabeth or become Catholic is guilty of treason and will be executed.

[From an Act of Parliament, 1581]

QUESTION 2

This question is about the lifestyle of the poor.

Study the source below and then answer the question which follows.

Source C

There are many hospitals in London which provide charity for the poor. St Bartholomew's is a hospital for sick poor people, St Thomas' is for old poor people and Christ's hospital is where orphans are brought up and nourished. These were given as gifts to the city by King Henry VIII and are paid for by the generosity of the citizens of London.

[John Stow, a wealthy London merchant who researched and wrote the city's history, in A Survey of London published in 1598]

To what extent does this source accurately reflect how the poor were provided for in

	Elizabethan times?	[6]
	[In your answer you should refer to the strengths and limitations of the source and use your own knowledge and understanding of the historical context.]

QUESTION 5

This question is about the Puritan threat.

Read the interpretation below and then answer the question which follows.

The Queen hated puritans, believing them to be a greater enemy to her than the Catholics; however, her Council included puritans, and even the bishops held some puritan views.

[Roger Lockyer, an academic historian, writing in the history book Tudor and Stuart Britain 1471–1714 published in 1964]

How far do you agree with this interpretation that the Puritans were a serious threat during Elizabeth's reign? [16]

[In your answer you should refer to how and why interpretations of this issue differ. Use your own knowledge and understanding of the wider historical debate over this issue to reach a well-supported judgement.]

Marks for spelling, punctuation and the accurate use of grammar and specialist language are allocated to this question. [3]
