QUESTION 1

This question is about life after war.

Study the sources below and then answer the question which follows.

Source A

Huge crowds gathered in London. At 3 p.m. Churchill made a radio broadcast to announce the end of the war. The royal family appeared on the balcony of Buckingham Palace to share in the celebrations. All over the country people sang and danced in the streets, and went to church to give thanks to God for victory.

This question is about life during the Depression.

Study the source below and then answer the question which follows.

Source C

Since 1934 the government has invested £8400 000 in the special areas and 14 900 jobs have been created. Companies have been offered grants to move to the new industrial estates. The steps being taken have helped these areas, and their advantages will be strongly felt.

[An official report for the government by the Commission for Special Areas, published in 1938]

To what extent does this source accurately explain the success of the Special Areas Acts? [6]

[In your answer you should refer to the strengths and limitations of the source and use your own knowledge and understanding of the historical context.]
