

Q1.

Describe cue reactivity as an explanation for nicotine addiction.

(Total 6 marks)

Q2.

Evaluate cue reactivity as an explanation for nicotine addiction.

(Total 6 marks)

Q3.

Describe and evaluate one or more of the following explanations for nicotine addiction: brain neurochemistry, learning theory.

(Total 16 marks)

Q4.

Describe how brain neurochemistry is involved in nicotine addiction.

(Total 6 marks)